

Quetzalcoatl

A long time ago, Aztec people lived in Mexico.

They believed that a dragon god called Quetzalcoatl created all modern humans. It was brightly coloured with scales and feathers.

They believed that the dragon god was kind and good. It was the god of light, the dawn, art, books and learning. It protected the humans from danger.

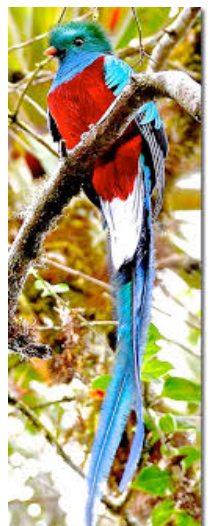

Mexico is in Central America

Aztecs built pyramids

This is a quetzal bird that lives in the rainforests. It is named after the Quetzalcoatl.

Answer the questions

Where did the Aztec people come from?

What did the Quetzalcoatl look like?

Was the Quetzalcoatl believed to be good or bad?

Draw your own Quetzalcoatl

